Analysis of Question Types and Skills Assessed

Source-Based Questions (Section A)

The core of Paper 1 revolves around source-based questions, which require students to:

- Identify and interpret information within sources.
- Compare and contrast different sources.
- Evaluate the reliability, purpose, and perspective of sources.
- Use sources to support or challenge historical arguments.

For example, students might be given a photograph of a protest, a political speech excerpt, or a newspaper article from 2013 and asked to analyze its significance in the context of apartheid resistance. This section aims to develop critical source analysis skills, which are essential for understanding history as a discipline rooted in evidence.

Knowledge and Explanation Questions (Section B)

Key Themes and Historical Interpretations in the 2013 Paper

The End of Apartheid and Transition to Democracy

One of the central themes in the November 2013 exam was the transition from apartheid to democracy. Students were expected to analyze: - The role of internal resistance, including protests and strikes. - Negotiations between the apartheid government and liberation movements. - The influence of international sanctions and diplomatic pressure. - The significance of events such as the release of Nelson Mandela in 1990 and the first democratic elections in 1994. Students had to demonstrate an understanding of multiple perspectives, including the strategies of different liberation movements and the complex negotiations that led to a peaceful transition.

Global Context of Cold War Politics

Another significant area was the Cold War's impact on global and regional conflicts. Students were prompted to examine: - How superpower rivalry influenced liberation movements. - The support or opposition from the United States and the Soviet Union. - The influence of global ideologies (capitalism vs. communism) on local conflicts. This section required an understanding of both global and regional history, showing how international dynamics affected South Africa's internal struggles.

Sources and Historiography
