Strategic Motivations and Political Will

The expansion was not solely driven by economic motives; strategic considerations played a central role: - Defense of Trade Routes: Securing maritime routes against rival powers like Spain and France. - Power Projection: Establishing naval bases and colonies to enhance national prestige. - Religious and Cultural Factors: Spreading Christianity and "civilization" ideals, often intertwined with imperial ambitions.

distant colonies became increasingly costly. - Political Pressures: Domestic movements for independence and international criticisms. - Ideological Shifts: Post-war anti-imperialist sentiment and changing global norms. - Military Challenges: Asymmetric conflicts and insurgencies in colonies drained resources.
