Origins and Historical Context of Streams in the Desert

Founding and Compilation

Streams in the Desert was first compiled by L.B. Cowman, a missionary and editor associated with the Christian Herald, during her time serving in China in the early 20th century. Cowman's compilation drew heavily from her own experiences, as well as from a vast array of Christian writers, poets, and theologians, both past and contemporary. The goal was to create a devotional resource that would uplift believers facing hardship, emphasizing themes of trust, perseverance, and divine sustenance amid adversity. The title metaphorically refers to the biblical imagery of streams in arid deserts—symbolizing God's provision during times of spiritual dryness and hardship. The original compilation was a response to the suffering and upheaval of the era, particularly the aftermath of World War I and the tumult of global instability, offering solace to a world in distress.

Evolution Over Time

Since its initial publication, Streams in the Desert has undergone numerous editions, translations, and adaptations. Its popularity prompted the addition of devotional materials, commentaries, and thematic compilations. The more recent Morning and Evening 365 Devotions aims to modernize the approach,
