Origins of a Vision: The Birth of You Call We Haul

Early Life and Motivations

Bob Carter's journey into the waste hauling and junk removal industry was not born out of a childhood fascination with trucks or trash; rather, it was a response to personal experiences and observations of community needs. Raised in a suburban neighborhood in the early 1980s, Carter witnessed firsthand the frustration homeowners and small businesses faced when dealing with clutter, debris, or unexpected junk removal tasks. These frustrations planted the seed for what would eventually become You Call We Haul. Carter's entrepreneurial spirit was evident from a young age. After completing high school, he initially pursued a degree in business but soon realized that practical experience—particularly in service delivery—was more aligned with his passions. Working various manual labor jobs, he became acutely aware of inefficiencies and gaps in local waste removal services, especially for small-scale clients who found existing options either too expensive or unreliable.

In 2005, armed with a modest savings account, a used truck, and a clear vision, Carter launched You Call We Haul. The mission was simple: provide prompt, reliable, and affordable junk removal services to homeowners, renters, and small businesses.

The key differentiator was Carter's commitment to personalized customer service—answering calls promptly, arriving on time, and ensuring environmentally responsible disposal practices.
