Historical Foundations of Race and Ethnicity in the U.S.

Early Colonial Constructions

The origins of racial and ethnic narratives in America trace back to European colonization in the 17th century. Early settlers brought ideas of racial hierarchy to justify slavery, land dispossession, and the marginalization of Indigenous peoples.

1. Indigenous Peoples: Native Americans had their own diverse cultures but faced centuries of displacement, violence, and forced assimilation.

2. Enslaved Africans: The transatlantic slave trade established a racialized system where Black Africans were forcibly brought to serve as chattel, with narratives developed to rationalize slavery.
3. European Immigrants: Initially seen as "white," but often viewed as inferior or undesirable during different periods, shaping narratives of inclusion and exclusion.

The Development of Racial Categories

Over time, legal and social frameworks created rigid racial categories:

1. One-Drop Rule: The idea that any African ancestry made a person Black, reinforcing racial boundaries.
2. Census Classifications: The U.S. Census has historically categorized populations, often reflecting societal hierarchies.

Key Laws and Policies
