Understanding Texas Child Support and Visitation Laws

Before diving into the specifics of the 2014 calendar, it's important to grasp the foundational principles underlying Texas child support and visitation laws.

Legal Framework in Texas

Texas law emphasizes the best interests of the child as the primary consideration in custody and visitation decisions. The Texas Family Code provides clear guidelines for establishing visitation rights and schedules, especially in cases involving divorced or separated parents.

- Standard Possession and Access: The law prescribes a default schedule for non-custodial parents, which can be modified based on the child's needs and parental circumstances.
- Parenting Plans: Courts often require parents to develop a parenting plan that includes visitation schedules, which courts may approve if they serve the child's best interests.
- Modification and Enforcement: Visitation arrangements can be modified if circumstances change, and enforcement mechanisms are in place to uphold court orders.

Overview of the 2014 Standard Visitation Schedule

The 2014 calendar provides a standardized schedule designed to promote consistent and meaningful contact between children and their non-custodial parents. While individual arrangements may vary, the standard schedule offers a baseline for most cases.

Regular Visitation Schedule

Typically, the standard visitation schedule in Texas includes:

1. Weekends: Every other weekend from Friday evening

through Sunday evening.

2. Weekday Visitation: One or two weekday evenings per week, often from after school until bedtime or a designated time.
3. Holiday Schedule: Alternating holidays, such as Thanksgiving, Christmas, Memorial Day, and Labor Day.
4. Summer Vacation: Extended visitation periods, usually lasting for several weeks, with arrangements made in advance.
