Students Joel Silver, Joel Schechter, and others sought a new sport that combined elements of football, soccer, and traditional frisbee play. The sport was designed to be played without referees, emphasizing fairness and sportsmanship from its inception. Over the decades, the sport evolved from informal backyard games to organized competitions with standardized rules. The founding principles of self-officiating, sportsmanship, and the spirit of the game have remained central to its identity.

Today, ultimate frisbee boasts millions of players worldwide, with an estimated 4-6 million participants in North America alone.

The Core Principles and Rules of Ultimate Frisbee

Fundamental Rules and Gameplay

Ultimate frisbee is played on a rectangular field, typically 70 yards long and 40 yards wide, with 25-yard end zones. The game involves two teams of seven players each, aiming to score points by catching the frisbee in the opponent's end zone. Key rules include: - The frisbee must be advanced by passing; running while holding the frisbee is prohibited. - The offensive team has a limited number of seconds (usually 10) to throw the disc after gaining possession. - If the frisbee touches the ground, goes out of bounds, or is intercepted, possession switches to the other team. - The game is typically played to a set number of points or within a time limit.

The Spirit of the Game
